

Name a Star Stress Free Gift Giving

Buy and name a star, that's my secret to stress free holidays and events!

I have to confess to feeling a little guilty at this time of year. I see people spending hours online and at the stores in the cold, just trying to work out what to buy for this person and that person, this is a problem that I don't have fortunately.

Although you cannot actually buy a physical star, you can name one and claim unique ownership in the star registry with a star deed, chosen name and message. You get an instant online entry and then a beautiful gift pack sent to you or the receiver just a few days later. You can also order a star and get it sent to anywhere in the world!

I have found them to be useful for many events such as Christmas, Christenings, Birthdays, exam passes and for the birth of a new baby. Even those times when I need to find a gift for a colleague, client or even a rainbow bridge gift in memorial of a person or pet, I have found a that gifting a star has been a winner. As this is a personalized gift, you can name the star specifically to suit the occasion eg. Ben's Star (for a new baby), Fluffy's Memorial (for a pet that passed away) Jeni and Josh (for a couple engagement) or even Sally's Secret Santa Star (for a work colleague) and as you can personalize the message that goes with the star name, you can further tailor this gift to your specific needs at the time and for the event.

You don't have to worry about distance either. I'm in the UK but my sister and my three nephews are in Australia. Last Christmas I simply bought all of them their own star and had it sent straight to their home. They were thrilled and they check into the Star Registry often to see their personal very own star and message from me! I also bought one for a retirement gift and the gentlemen in question thought it a lovely gift and was touched to have his very own star.

It is a thoughtful and personal gift which touches the receivers heart, not just some mass produced item that you grabbed off a shelf. I have found that loved ones are thrilled that you took the time out to give them something personal and eternal, that made them feel both special and cherished. It's a gift that you can give that you know won't offend anyone, no one is going to be allergic to or complain about for making them gain weight too! It's a real winner for people of all ages.

Some, this years I'm not spending ages choosing the perfect gift, carrying heavy box's or worrying about postage costs. I shall not be standing in long lines or fighting to get to items past Christmas shoppers. I will be at home in the warm and spending a short time on my PC, ordering and personalizing my gifts to all, in the certain knowledge that they will be delivered for me. It couldn't be easier than that. Star Naming has fast become my favorite guilty pleasure every holiday season. It gives me plenty of time to actually relax and enjoy the holidays myself!

Source:HackerReview.com

About the Author

I'm an author and very busy person, who loves to find gadgets or shortcuts that save me time and make life stress free.

You can read more about Name a Star Here